QUAKERS' THIRD SHUT-OUT

Five Double Plays Made, in Four of Which Doyle and Bean Figure-Smith's Exhibition at Second Very Speedy.

NEW YORK, May 5.-A remarkable game, full of snappy plays and features, was presented at the Polo grounds today between the Giants and the Quaker City aggregation. Only one run was scored in the nine sessions at bat. The Glants got the solitary tally in the second inning. Before or after that there was no scoring done by either side. The Quakers outbatted the locals. They succeeded in accumulating eight hits off of Kennedy and Evans, who succeeded him early in the game.

The Giants were unable to get more than three hits, but they were collected in a bunch and netted them the winning run.

The fielding in today's game has seldom been equaled. There were five double plays made during the matinee. This will serve to show how fast the game was. The locals got four of them. Doyle was in all. Childs and Douglass completed one for the Phillies.

Smith played a remarkable game at second base, having four put outs and five assists to his credit. Bean also played a swift game at short, having four assists to his credit and one put out. He officiated in all of the double plays. This is the third time the New York team that wielded the whitewash brush on
